

Today's thief makes more money from what's on your device than the device itself! Personal data, including bank and credit card information gives thieves access to more of people's money than ever! Not to mention access to your home address and other information about you and your loved ones.

Insurance plans can reimburse for a lost or stolen phone, but they cannot protect your identity, get your device back or make the thief pay for what he did to you. They will never replace the sense of security that's been lost.

UNSETTLING STATS ABOUT DEVICE THEFT:

100 PHONES ARE LOST OR STOLEN EVERY MINUTE.

40% OF CRIMES IN NYC INVOLVED A SMARTPHONE.

1,600,000 SMARTPHONES WERE STOLEN IN 2012.

INSURANCE COMPANIES DEPRECIATE

A $600 smartphone new may be worth only $100 used.
