Nairobi Area Activities

Sheldrick Animal Orphanage

Located in a secluded area of the Nairobi National Park the orphanage cares for baby elephants and other orphaned species with a dedicated team of conservationists. The orphanage is run by Daphne Sheldrick, the wife of the late famous Naturalist, David William Sheldrick who was the founder Warden of Tsavo East National Park in Kenya from its inception in 1948 to 1976.

At 11:00 am, the baby animals are brought from the National Park for a mud-bath at the orphanage, where for an hour you can get close to them and sometimes touch them.

You may not feed the animals but will get a chance to view the handlers feeding them. The Private Session strictly between 5:00 pm to 6:00 pm each day and allows you to see and interact with the animals in private; advance booking required.

The drive to the orphanage takes approximately 45 minutes and is open to the public for only one hour a day from 11:00 am – 12:00 pm.

In addition, one of the conservationists will give a talk about the elephants and where they came from, how they managing at the orphanage and how some of the previous orphans are progressing. During this talk you are observing the feeding, play and bathing of the elephants and other orphaned species.

Price: $40 per person

Includes: Transport to and from orphanage, transport to and from lunch location of your choice (if necessary/ desired, lunch additional), entry fee to orphanage.

Private Showing - Adopting a Baby Elephant for a Year

It's hard not to be touched when you see the orphans, and the dedication and hard work demanded of the conservationists to keep them happy and healthy is inspiring. Feeding them every three hours around the clock, keeping them warm and playing with them, requires huge efforts and of course money. Starting at $50, you can adopt an orphan, and the money goes directly to the project. You receive regular updates on your orphan via e-mail, as well as a copy of his biography, an adoption certificate, a water color painting of the orphan, and most importantly -- the knowledge that you have made a difference. Once you adopt, you may also make an appointment to see your baby when it goes to bed without the crowds during the public showing.

Entry fee and adoption required for the private showing.

The Giraffe Center

The Giraffe Center in Nairobi started as the nonprofit African Fund for Endangered Wildlife Kenya, a rehabilitation project to rescue the Rothschild Giraffe. At the center you learn more about this amazing animal while actually feeding and touching them from an elevating viewing house that also serves as the education center. The original house of the founders has been converted into a very impressive boutique hotel called the Giraffe Manor. Across from the Giraffe Center is a small nature walk that features two other giraffes and a variety of unique plants and birds.

Price: $40 per person

Includes: Transport to and from the Giraffe Center, transport to and from lunch location of your choice (if necessary/desired, lunch additional), entry fee to the Giraffe Center.

Karen Blixen Museum

The Karen Blixen Museum was once the center piece of a farm at the foot of the Ngong Hills owned by Danish author Karen and her Swedish husband, Baron Bror von Blixen Fincke. Located 10km from the city center, the Museum belongs to a different time period in the history of Kenya. The farm house gained international fame with the release of the movie 'Out of Africa' an Oscar winning film based on Karen's autobiography by the same title.

The Museum is open to the Public every day (9:30 am to 6:00 pm) including weekends and public holidays; guided tours are offered continuously.

The Museum was built in 1912 by Swedish Engineer Ake Sjogren. Karen and her husband bought the Museum house in 1917 and it became the farm house for their 4500 acre farm, of which 600 acres was used for coffee farming. Their marriage failed after eight years and in 1921 the Baron moved out and left the running of the farm to Karen which she did until her return to Denmark in 1931. The house and farm was bought by Remy Marin, who broke the land into 20 acre parcels for development. Subsequent development created the present suburb of Karen. Records indicate that a Lt. Col. G. Lloyd, an officer of the British Army, bought the house in 1935 and lived there until his death in 1954, when it passed to his daughters, Mrs. G.

Robersts and Lavender Llyod. A transfer of title to Mrs. J.P Robson and Mrs. L.B. Hyde is in City Hall records in 1956. The house was sporadically occupied until purchased in 1964 by the Danish government and given to the Kenyan government as an independence gift.

The government set up a college of nutrition and the Museum was initially used as the principal's house. In 1985 the shooting of a movie based on Karen's autobiography began and the National Museums of Kenya expressed an interest in the house and acquired it for the purpose of establishing a Museum which opened in 1986.

Karen, also known by her pen name Isak Dinesen, was born at Rungstedlund in Denmark on 17th of April 1885, the second child of Wilhelm and Ingeborg Dinesen's five children. She came to Africa in 1914 to marry her half cousin and carry out farming in the then British Colony of Kenya. Her uncle Aage Westenholz financed the farm and members of both families were shareholders.

It did not go as planned. The coffee farm did not do well, suffering various tragedies including factory fire and continuous bad harvest. After her divorce, Karen was left to run the financially troubled farm on her own, a daunting task for a woman of that generation. She fell in love with an English man, Denis Finch Hatton, and his death in a plane crash in Tsavo in 1930 coupled with the failed farming left Karen little choice but to return to Denmark. Following her departure from Africa she launched a successful writing as a career.

Karen produced Seven Gothic Tales (1934), Out of Africa (1937) and Babette Feat (1950) to increasing acclaim. She lived out her remaining years in Denmark dying on here family estate, Rungsted, in 1962 at the age of 77.

The Karen Blixen house meets three of the customary criteria for historical significance. First, it is associated with the broad historical pattern of European settlement and cultivation of East Africa. Second, it is associated with the life of a person significant to our past as the home of Baroness Karen Blixen from 1917 -1931. As such, it served as the setting and basis of her well known book Out of Africa, written under the pseudonym Isak Dinesen and as a gathering place for other well-known personalities of the period. Third, the building embodies the distinctive characteristics of its type, period and method of construction. The house's architecture is typical of late 19th century bungalow architecture, including the spacious rooms, horizontal layout verandas, tile roof and stone construction typical of scores of residences built throughout European suburbs of Nairobi in early decades.

The chronology of the house begins with its construction in 1912 by the wealthy Swedish civil engineer, later honorary Swedish consul to Kenya, Ake Sjögren. It served as the main residence on his Swedo-African coffee company, an estate of over 6,000 acres. The house was soon visited while on safari by the Danish count Mojen Frijs, who upon his return to Denmark persuaded his cousin to seek their fortune in Kenya. Baron Blixen acquired part of the estate in 1913 and the remainder in 1916. Karen Blixen called the house "Bogani" or "Mbogani" meaning a house in the woods, and occupied it until 1931.

By 1985, with renewed interest in Karen Blixen occasioned by the film production of Out of Africa, an agreement was reached with the college for the house to become part of the National Museums of Kenya. Many pieces of furniture that Karen Blixen sold to Lady McMillan on her departure were acquired back and constitute part of the exhibition in the Museum. The Museum house remains a serene environment that seems to belong to the past, surrounded by a tranquil garden and indigenous forest, with a splendid view of Karen's beloved Ngong Hills. At the opening of her book "Out of Africa" she honors the hills with the phrase 'I had a farm in Africa at the foot of the Ngong Hills'.

Price: $40 per person

Frequently Asked Questions

Kenya

What are the visa requirements for Kenya?

Required, $50 payable to Kenyan government – we provide instructions.

What immunizations do I need for this trip?

Currently there are no required vaccinations for entry to Kenya; however, you may want to make sure the following vaccinations are up to date: Hepatitis A and B, Typhoid, Tuberculosis, Diphtheria & Tetanus, Meningococcal Meningitis and Polio are suggested. Your chances of contracting these diseases without immunizations are very low; thousands of people come to Kenya without them and do not experience any problems. It is up to you how you decide to immunize yourself, we recommend consulting a travel doctor for 100% safety.

What medications, if any, do I need for this trip?

It depends on the locations you are visiting in Kenya. The safari destinations could be considered malarial regions but we have not found that it is prevalent. If you are visiting the coast or islands the only medication we recommend highly for this trip is an anti-malarial medication. By simply taking an anti-malarial you can avoid this mosquito born disease. This medication is not compulsory; by using mosquito repellent, keeping your tent and mosquito net closed, wearing pants and long sleeves, and being attentive to the situation you can avoid malaria without taking medication. We also recommend anti-diarrhea medicine and nay other medications that will make your trip more enjoyable. Climbers should bring aspirin for the altitude.

Where do I get more information on immunizations and medications?

The best place to go is a travel doctor. Often general practitioners do not have immediate access to yellow fever and malaria medications, nor do they have up to date information on new drugs or techniques. Simply go to your doctor and he will refer you to a travel specialist. This travel doctor can answer all your questions, prescribe the necessary medications, and administer the immunizations.

What is included in my tour?

All guiding and lodging within Kenya, all meals prepared by our chef (any others you decide to eat outside of the regularly scheduled meals are paid for by you), all transport within Kenya, airport transfers in Kenya, gear rental (for climbers and trekkers), and park fees. We can arrange international airfare.

What is not included in my tour?

We can arrange international airfare.

Optional activities such as snorkeling, diving, deep sea and sport fishing, balloon rides, boat trips, bicycle rental, etc.

When deciding which type of clothes to bring keep in mind that daytime temperature varies from 80-90 degrees during the day and 55-65 at night; in the upper elevations it can get cooler (low 40's) at night.

ELECTRICITY IN EAST AFRICA

Traveling abroad and powering all your devices is confusing and Kenya electrical outlets are no different. Electricity in Kenya is 240 Volts, alternating at 50 cycles per second. If you travel to Kenya with a device that does not accept 240 Volts at 50 Hertz, you will need a voltage converter and an adapter that fits the plug sockets in Kenya.

There are three main types of voltage converter. Resistor-network converters will usually be advertised as supporting something like 50-1600 Watts. They are light-weight and support high-wattage electrical appliances like hair dryers and irons. However, they can only be used for short periods of time and are not ideal for digital devices.

Transformers will have a much lower maximum Watt rating, usually 50 or 100. Transformers can often be used continuously and provide better electricity for low wattage appliances like battery chargers, radios, laptop computers, cameras, mp3 players and camcorders. However, they are heavy because they contain large iron rods and lots of copper wire.

Some companies sell combination converters that include both a resistor network and a transformer in the same package. This kind of converter will usually come with a switch that switches between the two modes. If you absolutely need both types of converter, then this is the type to buy.

Kenya Plug Adapters and Outlet Shapes

The Kenya electrical outlet is the same as the one used in Great Britain.

If your appliances plug has a different shape the electrical plugs in Kenya will not accommodate it and you may need a plug adapter and you should confirm if your Device can handle 240 volts to prevent damage.

MONEY ON SAFARI

US DOLLARS/EURO/GBP

US dollars, EUROS and GBP are widely accepted as payment at the lodges and camps and are mandatory for paying for your visa if you are getting it on arrival; local currency is better for local venues like souvenir stands and village visits.

Please make sure that all US currency you bring to Kenya and Tanzania is series 2004 or newer as older bills are no longer accepted; counterfeit currency is dumped on the African market and those bills that are older than series 2004 do not have the newer security features.

CREDIT CARDS

Credit cards are an easy way to take care of expenses incurred at lodges and camps (not budget camps) at the end of your stay. You can charge personal expenses (laundry, drinks, excursions, etc.) to your room and pay for them at the end of your stay; visa is the most widely accepted followed by MasterCard and Amex.

TRAVELERS CHEQUES

Due to counterfeiting issues travelers checks are no longer accepted by most vendors and are no longer recommended.

LOCAL CURRENCY

The local currency in Kenya and Tanzania is the shilling (KES) and (TZS) and you can purchase it at the airport on arrival or at any bank in the major cities and towns. Our staff can assist you in finding the best rate at the time you need to buy currency.

VACCINATIONS & IMMUNIZATIONS

Kenya & Tanzania

Note: if you leave the airport in Kenya before traveling to Tanzania you will need a yellow fever vaccination certificate.

Odyssey Safaris is constantly monitoring vaccination and immunization information to keep our clients abreast of changes in government requirements and safety precautions in east Africa.

Contrary to popular belief there are no vaccinations and immunizations required for entry to Kenya or Tanzania. Many travel doctors still insist that clients get a yellow fever vaccination but this has not been required for clients from North America for years unless you are visiting a yellow fever endemic region before traveling to Kenya or Tanzania.

If you are traveling to Kenya or Tanzania via South Africa you will need a yellow fever vaccination to show the South African government to transit via their airports.

Malaria medication is essential for travel to the tropical coast and islands of east Africa and safari travelers should consider whether they would like to take this medication as the malaria risk is low in the national parks and reserves.

The best place to keep up to date with the most accurate vaccination and immunization information is the Center for Diseases Control website:

<http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/destinations/kenya.htm>

<http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/destinations/traveler/none/tanzania>

Why should you book with a tour operator?

Game drives: Unlimited — many safari companies and lodges try to save money on fuel by going on game drives in the morning and evenings only (usually 1-2 hours each) and exploring those areas of the parks adjacent to the lodge where guests are staying to keep mileage down. They will then charge their guests a supplement to go on game drives outside of these times anywhere in the range of $50-$100 per hour. We allow our guests the freedom to choose when, and how long, they wish to view wildlife in the national parks and would never charge additionally for the service.

Extra value is hard to quantify, but could be worth in excess of $100 dollars if you wanted to spend even a few more hours viewing wildlife.

Vehicle: Mini-bus vs. 4x4 land cruiser.

The safari mini bus is a 2 wheel drive vehicle and risks getting stuck when driving on game park roads or off road; our vehicles are new and well maintained. They have an additional pop up roof in the front so a client may use the front seat and are equipped with a long range radio. In addition, we also have a hook up for MP3/iPod players so that travelers can listen to their favorite music. Extra value is hard to quantify, but could be priceless if you breakdown or get stuck in the mud.

Seamless execution of itinerary: Our Company makes all your reservations and the same guide who greets you at the airport is with you throughout your safari.

Airport transfers: In our experience an airport transfer is generally referred to as a one way trip from or to the airport. We have included all airport transfers in this itinerary at a value of $40-50 per transfer (this is the going taxi rate).

AMREF: Emergency air evacuation service included.

Bottled water: we provide a bottle of water each day.

Safety: Read all about all of the steps Odyssey Safaris takes to make your trip as enjoyable as possible in the "Safe Travel" section of this packet.

We can adjust any of these itineraries to meet your travel needs and whether you travel with your own private vehicle and guide or join a group we can find you the best option for your safari.

As you can see we include everything you need to enjoy your safari except your visas and the value we provide is more than you can find from any other company in the industry.

Why Odyssey Safaris?

Many people think they can save money if they book direct with a foreign travel agent or travel agency in Africa. This is not typically the case, especially when you factor in the extra time, effort and risk involved. If you book direct with individual camps and lodges in Africa, they may offer you a discount, but then you are stuck trying to figure out who is meeting you at the airport and who is flying you into the bush. You also lose the security of having one company overseeing all your arrangements with the ability to make changes if they are necessary due to flight delays or other unforeseen problems. Travel agencies in Africa don't have to abide by the strict consumer protections that are standard in the USA. As an Odyssey Safari client, if you have a problem, we are here to help you resolve it. We are your advocate. In short, if you go on your own and a problem arises, you have no one to assist you (or complain to for that matter). By booking with a jointly owned African and American based company you have recourse when you return home. Without Odyssey Safaris, you are on your own.

Is Your Safari Secure?

With a growing number of travel specialists to choose from, finding a suitable one - with experience and firsthand knowledge - can be challenging. Odyssey Safaris is a fully licensed limited liability travel company, formed in New York, USA since 2004 and now incorporated in Connecticut as Odyssey Safaris, LLC.

Important Things to Know Before You Book Your African Safari

Make sure that whoever you book with has extensive personal travel experience in Africa. We know these countries intimately and our company is partly owned by Africans. Each of our professional safari consultants lives or has lived and worked in their country of expertise. Our staff has personally stayed at all of the lodges and hotels we work with. We regularly review properties to ensure that each meets the high standard we demand for our clients. It is our policy to regularly and personally visit every property we recommend to ensure that high standard, but also because we love Africa and their wild areas.

Is prompt and reliable. Are calls answered? Are emails and phone messages replied to in a timely manner? We are best known for our attentive service, attention to detail, and honesty. Our US office is open between 9 AM and 5 PM weekdays and we look forward to discussing the various travel options with you.

About Odyssey Safaris

An African safari is a deeply rewarding experience described by some as spiritual; to walk this land, see these animals and climb these mountains brings one closer to nature and an innate primeval cord deep within all of us. The beaches, mountains, and savannas of Africa are a connection for humans to an earlier time when man and beast shared the land. It is this complex experience of emotions that draws people from around the world to climb the mountains of Kenya and Tanzania, stare into the face of lions, and snorkel the reefs of the Kenyan coast.

Odyssey Safaris is committed to bringing its customers the same appreciation and enjoyment of African people, culture, wildlife, and the environment that its founders enjoyed and that ultimately spawned the energy for the creation of the company. The employees of Odyssey Safaris will work tirelessly to ensure that your tour is enjoyable, affordable, and safe, while maintaining respect for the native peoples and the wildlife we encounter; we are deeply committed to maintaining the natural environment in which we all live.

SAFE TRAVEL

Safe Travel

Safe and secure travel on your safari is our highest priority. Our safaris have been carefully planned and researched by our local guides to safeguard against possible contingencies. Odyssey Safaris takes a number of important steps to preempt any possible problems and also provides additional measures in the event of an incident.

Flying Doctors

Complimentary enrollment in this emergency medical service at no extra charge.

The Flying Doctors Service operated by AMREF is one of the most comprehensive air ambulance services in Africa, evacuating approximately 600 people annually. Flying Doctors are on call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Staff includes trauma doctors and nurses. The organization maintains 24-hour contact by direct radio, telephone, and fax between their radio room in Nairobi and 120 sites across East Africa. Flying Doctors has been operating for 40 years and owns and operates five aircraft. <http://www.amref.org>

Current Health Information

Prior to your departure you will receive Odyssey Safaris pre-departure welcome packet which includes information about health issues for your travel in East Africa. We provide health checklists and questions to ask your doctor as well as up-to-date information from Centers for Disease Control about traveling in East Africa. Additionally, pre-departure briefings prepare you with safe practices that will maximize your safety and security. We give you detailed instructions on local laws, customs, and safari practices, so that you will know what to expect at all times. For added convenience, we give you phone and email contacts you can leave with friends and family at home to assure access if they need to reach you.

Security Awareness

Kenya's tourism industry is a major part of its economy and the government goes out of its way to protect tourists and tourist sites. Odyssey Safaris is in contact with police both locally and nationally, the Kenyan government security services, and the US Embassy. In the event of an incident ranging from a political protest to something more serious we are notified by these services and communicate with our safari drivers via the vehicle radios and cell phones to ensure the safety of our guests. We also assist you in enrolling in the Smart Traveler Program via the US Embassy which keeps travelers informed of security developments.

Reliable Vehicles

Odyssey Safaris provides 4x4 Toyota Safari Land Cruisers for all our safaris regardless of budget (no mini-buses). Our vehicles are rigorously maintained, inspected, cleaned, and tested before and after every safari. All vehicles are equipped with 2 spare tires, a 1st aid kit, and a radio to communicate with our main office, park rangers, base camp, Flying Doctors, and the Kenyan police. These are spacious, comfortable vehicles capable of challenging off road terrain while still large enough to guarantee our guests a window seat.
