Flash 101

by Amanda Kerr Photography

Cost: $125/ Class duration: 2hrs/ Email/ register@amandakerrphotography.com

Learn the basics of using your external or built-in flash systems.

Why is it that when you use your flash either your subject is too bright and your background is completely underexposed? This class will teach you how to use your flash effectively and get perfect exposure every time!

You get:

- Full hour learning the basics of how your flash works in cooperation with aperture, shutter and ISO
- Full hour of shooting, with personal help from the instructor, using your new flash knowledge
- Full written notes for the class are provided via a PDF link emailed to you after class.

You will learn:

- About using the flash in both manual and TTL (Through The Lens) modes
- How shutter and aperture work with your flash
- About the distance scale and the Inverse Square Law
- Using flash effectively both in aperture priority and manual mode
- How to bounce light using flash and why you would do it
- Using flash as both your 'fill' light and 'key' light source
- Rear and Front curtain synch (what are they?!)
- Using your built-in flash (sometimes referred to as "pop-up" flash)
