

OUR HISTORY: In 1968, the founder of then Pepe Taco traveled to the southern tip of California to search for the finest Mexican Cuisine to bring back to Western MA. As the Springfield area's first Mexican Restaurant, Pepe Taco brought spice and zest to the area. The name of the restaurant changed from Pepe Taco's to Nana's Kitchen in 1970, which it remained until 1984 when the name changed to Casa de Nana, "House of Grandmother", in tribute to one of the original founders. We continue to pride ourselves using only the freshest ingredients in all our recipes, which are the original since 1968. Thank you for making Casa de Nana the best Mexican Cantina in Western MA, spanning over five decades. Sincerely, Rob & Pete
